THE DELAWARE AND CHESAPEAKE

President Roosevelt has appointed General Felix Agnus, editor and publisher of the Baltimore American, as chairman of the Commission on the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, and has associated with him Major Flagler of the Engineer Corps of the army and Engineer Chambers of the navy.

Here is a practical step in a project which has long been mooted. It assures a thorough consideration of the route and all the elements of the problem and an intelligent and adequate report. General Agnus will bring to the examination sound business capacity and a large conception of the advantages and value of the interior water way. He represents the public sense and the commercial interests of the great and important section directly concerned. The engineers will supply the professional skill and meet the technical requirements.

A ship channel between the Delaware and the Chesapeake will in itself alone be justified by its own immediate uses. But its operation would be so advantageous that it would stimulate the further development of the same idea, and it would become part of a comprehensive system of inland water communication extending along the whole Atlantic coast. This larger scheme will find its first experimental test in the easy and important connection between the Delaware and the Chesapeake.

THOSE WHO CAN SHOULD PAY

There is a growing sentiment that large fortunes should bear a fair share of the public burdens, both state and national. Unfortunately, there have been, in the past, not a few who have been possessed of the notion that it was the duty of the masses to pay the taxes and the privilege of the wealthy to be absolved from any such obligation. In many instances taxes are levied upon man's necessities, and not according to his abilities. There is no reason why those who own 20 per cent. of the wealth of this country should contribute the larger part of the taxes, while those who own 71 per cent. of the wealth get off without paying their share.

"President Roosevelt is pre-eminently correct in saying that 'we shall ultimately have to consider the adoption of some such scheme as that of a progressive tax on all fortunes.' This is a timely suggestion, and one that is supported by good Republican authority. Lincoln was very emphatic in his views on matters of this kind, and expressed himself in no uncertain terms. He said the Republicans were 'both for the man and the dollar, but, in case of conflict, the man before the dollar.'"

ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION

The members of the various unions of the W. C. T. U., throughout the State are preparing for the annual state convention to be held in Wilmington, September 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th.

The national convention is to be held in Hartford, Conn., October 26th to 31st.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Kent County, will hold an all day meeting at Camden Camp, August 2d. Dr. S. M. Morgan, presiding, and Dr. J. H. Morgan, of Dover, presiding.

Scout, of Pittsburg, will each make an address during the day, and there may be short addresses by white ribbons of the county. Good music and a brief service for the children will also constitute parts of the program.

NEW DEBATE REFUSES POSITION

It is rumored that Professor Joseph L. Hills of Vermont, who was chosen director of the Delaware College Agricultural Experiment Station to succeed Dr. A. T. Scott, who has removed, has declined the honor. It is expected that a director will be chosen at a special meeting of the board on Monday and a man named J. W. Mundy, formerly of this State, but lately in charge of the Moody and Sankey farm at Northfield, Massachusetts, will be named. The Grange of the State may make another effort to have Dr. Neale restored to the position, on the ground that he is more familiar with agricultural needs and conditions in this State than any stranger could possibly be.

THE TRANSCRIPT, $1.00 per year.

FOR A UNITED PARTY

Arrangements for the final steps for Republican harmony have been completed. Friday Chairman J. Heister Ball of the Regular Republican State Committee and Chairman J. Frank Ailes of the Union-Republican State Central Committee, and Frank L. Speakman and James M. Satterfield, the respective committee secretaries, held a conference at Senator Ball's house with the result that a call was jointly signed and issued for a state convention to meet at Dover on September 8th. The purpose of that convention is to consolidate the two organizations into one that shall be known hereafter as the Republican Party of Delaware. It is an undisputed fact that in the city of Wilmington existed the greatest obstacles to harmony and the greatest causes for blocking its consummation, but the action of Thomas E. Postles in City Council Thursday night it is believed, cleared the situation as nothing else could have done, and the prospects for getting both factions of the Republican party together were never brighter than they are now. The rank and file of the Republican party from one end of the state to the other desires a united party and it remains for all Republicans, regardless of past affiliations to participate in the primaries to elect delegates to the re-organized convention—delegates who will abide by the convention action and act in unison for the party's good.

Common Primaries to be held September 1st. The primaries for the election of delegates to the convention will be held throughout the State on September 1st and all Republicans, without regard to past party affiliations are entitled to vote at those primaries. The call, which it took all day to frame, was drawn with greatest care as numerous questions which seemed impossible barriers had to be met and cared for. There was the question of representation in convention, the question of representation of the various constitutional divisions on the new state committee and the details of how the transition from a dual order to a single party would be effected without confusion and extra contention. The call provides that the convention be composed of 100 delegates of whom Wilmington is to have 40 delegates and rural New Castle County 38 delegates, and Kent County 40 and Sussex County 42 delegates. At the primaries to be held September 1st new county committees for each county shall be elected who shall supplant the present committees. The committees shall be elected by wards in Wilmington and by representative districts in rural New Castle, Kent and Sussex Counties.

THIS CRITICAL WORLD

None but the initiated know the accuracy required in a printing office. The average reader who defects a misspelled word or letter up side down feels that his word on earth has not been accomplished until he has called the attention of the overworked editor to the glaring defect. He does not notice the thousands and tens of thousands of letters that are in place, of the multitude of words correctly spelled, but his eagle eye is glued on the one that is out of place. So it is with our deeds. Man does a thousand good deeds and no attention is paid to them, but if he makes one mistake that is flashed all over the world. A life time may be spent in building up a reputation that may be wrecked in a moment. The world is a harsh critic, exacting to a fault.

DIED SUDDENLY

Miss Blanch Higgins, of McConough, who was visiting her sister in New Castle, took an overdose of pills Sunday morning and died in an hour. She was 30 years old, and was in the habit of taking a pill three times a day for nervous trouble. Sunday morning her nerves were in a terrible condition, so she took the day's allowance at once. In a few minutes she told her sister of a peculiar feeling and attributed it to the extra pill. She was dead before a physician arrived. Coroner Purke was notified but decided that an inquest was not necessary.

William J. B. Lofland visited Philadelphia and Reading friends from Friday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lipicomb and son Clarence, of Wilmington, are visiting Mr. Alfred Jones.

Mrs. R. B. Merritt entertained on Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dulany and Willie Stone, of Baltimore, and Mr. John P. Wilson and wife, of near Fredericton.

The members of the singing class were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cox on Green street Wednesday evening. Local and instrumental music were greatly enjoyed, and at 10 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining-room, where refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Davidson, of Dover, were among the guests.

A number of camp meetings are now being held on the Eastern Shore and quite a number will commence the last of this month and during the early part of August. Among them being Wye, Shilo, Concord, Elkwood, Ennals and several others. All of these draw large crowds, besides nearly all of them are along the lines of railroads running from Baltimore and Philadelphia, and on Sundays large numbers of city people are generally in attendance, especially at Wye.

Mrs. Virginia Ennis, met with a peculiar and painful accident while returning from Philadelphia one evening recently. There being no vacant seats in the car she, with several others, was obliged to stand in the aisle, supporting herself by holding on to the back of a car seat. The car gave a sudden jolt, throwing the passengers forward, and a large woman standing in the aisle was thrown violently against Mrs. Ennis' left arm, crushing it against the seat and breaking the bone in two places.

Cupid has been playing pranks among the teachers of New Castle county, and as a result many of the school boards are short of teachers. During the past few weeks ten teachers who taught in the Newport schools last year have been married and the school commissioners do not know where to find their successors. County Superintendent Arthur R. Spaid says that good teachers are in great demand not only in the school room but in the homes. The salaries of some teachers have been increased in order that they will teach next year.

During the annual commencement exercises of the Wilmington Conference Academy, bonds and mortgages held by individuals and corporations against the academy, amounting in all to about $50,000, were cancelled and publicly burned. But the important matter of satisfying the judgments on record in the probate court's record was not attended to, and so far as these records go the indebtedness still exists. Unless the said bonds and mortgages are satisfied of record by those who hold them, the trustees of the academy may find themselves in an embarrassing predicament.—25.

FOR SALE OR RENT.—The Modern Cottage on South Broad St., occupied by Mr. Leonhart. Possession immediately. Inquire of J. C. PARKER.

A hot dry spell is promised to follow the wet weather now prevailing. The government predictions state that it will be unusually hot and the drought will be widespread.

The frequency of showers and the continued damp condition of wheat has much interfered with threshing in this vicinity and as a consequence many farmers are delayed. Some, however, have stacked their wheat until a more favorable opportunity.

An enormous crop of bush berries this year would indicate a severe winter, if tradition be true. Black berries especially are more plentiful than they have been for years. The profuse blossoming of clematis, beech and other trees is also considered a reliable indication.

Postmaster General Coret, on his issued an order, to go into effect August 1st, rescinding the regulation under which patrons of rural mail routes are compelled to purchase boxes of certain manufactures approved by the department costing from 50 cents to $4 each. Patrons of rural routes will be permitted to construct their own boxes, provided that in doing so they conform to the requirements of the department as to size, durability, safety and inclemencies of the weather, and which have the approval of the postmaster of the office which serves the route.

Thieves entered the residence of Dr. W. E. Barnard early Sunday morning, and carried away several pieces of silverware, cut glass and other valuable articles. They also found several checks and a double bill, and after taking the checks, they were afraid to present them for payment, and returned them by mail from Camden, N. J., on Wednesday. They gained an entrance through the pantry window, and it is the opinion of many that they were professionals at the business. At this writing no clue has been gotten as to who the guilty parties are, but in all probability they came down from Philadelphia on the midnight train and returned on the early morning train with their plunder.

With the advent of July a half year gone. Are you watching how your subscription is standing. That remittance you thought you would make promptly, have you forgotten? We would appreciate it if you would give the matter your early attention. Owing to the low price of THE TRANSCRIPT we cannot afford to render bills monthly, and for this reason we put on the little pink label. This label appears on all papers except those delivered by carriers in town. For instance, if after your name and address you see the figure 7—06, it means that your subscription is paid up to July (the seventh month) 1906. This enables the subscriber to keep informed continually as to his or her standing with us. Watch the little label and keep your subscription paid in advance.

GREAT MODERN WATERWAY

It is understood that General Felix Agnus, the chairman of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Commission, will visit Wilmington shortly to consult General Mackenzie, the chief of engineers, and with Major Flagler and Lieutenant Chambers, his colleagues on the commission, as to the work to be done. The subject of the making of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal a great modern waterway, as well as the investigation of the comparative merits of the Susquehanna route, has been before the government for so many years that there is a vast accumulation of literature, surveys, maps, reports and recommendations, all of which must be carefully studied by the members of the commission. In addition new surveys must be made and old surveys must be verified.

Tomato Prices Soaring
Reports from different sections of the State indicate that tomato growers are likely to get good returns this year for that product. Farmers who have contracted with packers at $8.00 per ton are now discovering, it is stated, that they could have received $10 per ton had they waited awhile, and several of them have offers through the mail of that amount. Those who had not contracted are, doing so now, it is stated, at that figure.
